

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE RESTRAINED FROM PIRATING A.P. NEWS

Supreme Court of United States Sustains Federal Court Decision.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The supreme court of the United States sustained today federal court decrees restraining the International News Service from pirating news of the Associated Press.

Five members of the court including Chief Justice White concurred in a majority opinion delivered by Associate Justice Pitney upholding the principle of a property right in news and the complaint of unfair competition and refusing to interfere with injunctions specifically prohibiting the International News Service from pirating by:

Bribing employees of newspapers to furnish Associated Press news before publication for transmission to the defendant's clients;

Inducing Associated Press members to violate its by-laws by permitting the defendant to obtain news before publication; and by Copying news from bulletin boards and from early editions of Associated Press newspapers and selling it either bodily or after re-writing.

Minority Opinions.

Two minority opinions were delivered. Associate Justice Brandeis dissented entirely declaring that while the injustice of the use of unearned news matter by a competitor was obvious, the defendant had acted without misrepresentation and he regarded the majority opinion as laying down a dangerous opinion which might result in the denial to a great number of people of news that only the Associated Press secures. He suggested there should be legislation to protect the public rights.

Associate Justice Holmes delivered a brief opinion in which he announced Associate Justice McKenna, holding that fraud on the part of the defendant in palming off the complainant's news as its own constituted the only ground of action and that without legislation the only remedy to the applied was to grant an injunction requiring the International News to credit to The Associated Press all pirated news used within a certain number of hours after publication by Associated Press papers.

"It is a question of how strong an infusion of fraud is necessary to turn a flavor into a poison," said Justice Holmes. "The dose seems to me to be strong enough here to need a remedy from the law."

Clark Takes No Part.
With Chief Justice White, Associate Justices Day, Vandewater and McReynolds joined in the majority opinion delivered by Associate Justice Pitney. It was announced that Associate Justice Clark, a newspaper owner since long before he went on the bench, had taken no part in the case.

The court not only sustained the contentions of the complainant but found nothing in the proceedings to prove the International News Service charged that the Associated Press entered the case with "unclean hands" thru having been guilty of the same practices admitted by the defendant. Reviewing the great task of gathering and distributing news—the cost to The Associated Press amounting to approximately $2,500,000 annually, assessed against its members and becoming a part of their cost of operation—the opinion discusses the argument of the defendant for a right to sell to its clients or customers news taken from bulletin boards or early edition newspapers and says:

"The right of the purchaser of a single newspaper to spread knowledge of its contents gratuitously, for any legitimate purpose not unreasonably interfering with complainant's right to make merchandise or it may be admitted; but to transmit that news for commercial use, in competition with complainant—which is what defendant has done, and seeks to justify—is a very different matter."

Stripped of all disguises the process amounts to unauthorized interference with the normal operation of complainant's legitimate business, precisely at the point where the profit is to be reaped, in order to divert a material portion of that profit from those who have earned that to those who have not; with special advantage to defendant in the competition because of the fact that it is not burdened with any part of the expense of gathering the news. The transaction speaks for itself, and a court of equity ought not hesitate long in characterizing it as unfair competition in business."

Objections Made.
In regard to objections that the district court failed to be specific in defining when the commercial value of news to the complainant and all its members has passed away, the court said while not expressing approval of the form adopted by the district court it declined to modify it at this stage leaving the lower court to deal with the matter.

YANKEES WILL ENJOY GOOD OLD FASHION XMAS

Plenty of Luxuries to Be Supplied Boys In France

COBLENZ, Sunday, Dec. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—The arms of Santa Claus reaching across the Atlantic and France to beyond the Rhine have brought large quantities of sweets and various luxuries and holiday gifts for the first Christmas in Germany of the American army of occupation. Christmas packages for the soldiers began to arrive several days ago in carload lots and are being distributed rapidly from the rail heads to the eight divisions within the area of occupation. The quartermaster's department and the American Red Cross has provided thirty carloads of chocolate and stick candy. The quartermaster also is providing four cars of pastry and material for pies and cakes.

Every officers mess and every company of soldiers is to have a Christmas tree. Many of the trees were cut by the soldiers themselves.

The Y. M. C. A. is supplying decorations for the trees, branches of the Knights of Columbus with all the divisions will present the soldiers with extra smokes, in addition to individual gifts and plenty of candy and chewing gum.

Distribute Packages.
The arrangements provide for beginning early in the morning the distribution of the packages sent to the soldiers from home while the afternoon and evening are to be devoted to entertainments of various sorts. On the Gastronomic side the men promise to be very well provided for. While no turkey or cranberries will be served at the Christmas dinner the troops will have goose, ducks and chickens a plenty, as well as roast pig and fish. A general order prohibits the Americans from buying meats or fats from the Germans, but by a system of trading soap, as well as chocolate and other food stuffs, the prospects appear good of securing enough of native products to supply the army meat diet.

The Salvation army has begun the baking of doughnuts at its various quarters and by Christmas it hopes to have hundreds of thousands on hand—at least three doughnuts for every soldier. This organization also is to provide gifts of various kinds.

The Germans through the occupied area are preparing for an extensive celebration among themselves. They seem determined to have a good time and are buying extra supplies for their Christmas dinners.

The German weather forecast for Christmas is: "Clouds, probably snow."

ENGDAHL SPENDS DAY ON STAND

Editor of Socialist Paper Admits He Never Printed a Line Which Aided Government in Prosecution of War.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Under cross examination today, J. Louis Engdahl, editor of the American Socialist, who with four others is on trial before Judge Landis charged with violating the espionage law admitted he had never printed a line in the paper which might have aided the government in the successful prosecution of the war.

He did not deny having printed pages of editorials, statements, speeches and interviews against the war and the selective draft. Assistant District Attorney Fleming read extracts from numerous of the alleged anti-war articles from the files of the paper. One was signed by Victor L. Berger, another defendant and entitled "If that be treason make the most of it."

Engdahl said it had been taken from a book written by Berger several years ago entitled "Berger's Broadside."

Another article offered in evidence was entitled "The navy gives receipts" and referred to the fact that "window service flags for homes of men in the military service of the United States had been issued. It concluded with the inquiry: "How much longer will women continue to swap their husbands and sons for a gaudy piece of cardboard?"

In his direct examination Engdahl said he had registered under the selective draft and did not claim exemption as a conscientious objector.

Attorney Seymour for the defense read an editorial on free speech from Hearst's Chicago Examiner which he offered in evidence.

General Pershing Spends Night In German Territory

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Sunday, Dec. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American forces slept in a castle on the east bank of the Rhine Saturday night as the guest of Major General Hines, corps commander with headquarters at Neuwied.

General Pershing crossed the Rhine in an automobile at 10:35 o'clock Saturday night over a pontoon bridge at Coblenz, after having examined the newspaper correspondents at dinner in his private train. This morning he was joined at Neuwied by Major General Dickman and with Major Generals Dickman and Hines, visited the three division headquarters with the bridgehead and other points of interest on the eastern side of the Rhine.

Returning to Coblenz he left by special train Sunday night for Chaumont, going by way of Treves, Luxembourg and Verdun.

On his way to Coblenz Saturday General Pershing was a luncheon guest of Major General Muir, commander of the fourth division.

General Pershing traveled by motor, visiting Wittlich, the headquarters of Major General Haan of the seventh corps at Mayen and other points of the occupied area. A special train made up of nine cars preceded General Pershing from Treves.

Within five minutes after the train arrived at Coblenz the wires of the telephone and telegraph instruments on board were connected with the signal corps wires. During the afternoon aides and other officers of the commander's personnel talked with Chaumont and Paris over the signal corps wires regarding army affairs.

From Treves to Coblenz and on the return trip the train consisted of French built cars drawn by a German locomotive. The train was in charge of a German crew.

U. S. Overseas Battlefleet Will Arrive Thursday

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Steamship news from participation in the bloodless allied victory over the German armada, America's bloodless fleet—nine super dreadnaughts—with the Connecticut, flagship of Admiral Mayo, commander of the navy, as escort, will arrive off New York harbor just in time to lead the great peace review by Secretary of the Navy Daniels Thursday morning.

The officers on the staff of Vice Admiral Grant commander of the home fleet were unable tonight to state the position of the westward cruising squadron, they announced the returning warships "would not pass the Statue of Liberty before 9 o'clock the morning of the 26th."

The Vice-Admiral's assistants declared that in no case would these ships make their appearance in the upper harbor before they had passed the presidential yacht Mayflower, with the navy's civilian chief on her bridge. It was more likely they said that the home coming fleet's progress would be timed to reach Ambrose Channel in the early hours of Thursday morning, when the vessels would steam up the bay in parade formation, arriving off Liberty Island between 9 and 10 o'clock. Owing to delay by storms of the destroyers and smaller craft in the overseas fleet, it was said only 6,000 officers and men, two thirds of the complement of Rear Admiral Rodgers battleship squadron will march in the parade. This will start immediately after the naval review probably shortly after noon and upon its conclusion shore leaves will be put into effect.

VERSAILLES CAPITAL OF PEACE LEAGUE?
PARIS, Dec. 23.—The foreign affairs committee of the Chamber of deputies is considering a bill which would make Versailles the capital of the proposed society of nations. The bill is backed because the deputies from Versailles and the department of Seine-et-Oise. It proposes to put the buildings at Versailles at the disposal of the states represented at the peace conference giving them the privilege of extra territorial right and to make Versailles the permanent center of the proposal society of nations.

LEARNING WISHES OF SOLDIERS
PARIS, Friday, Dec. 20.—In order to learn what proportion of the American army in France wishes to return home immediately, what wishes to remain in France for a time and what intends to remain here indefinitely the American army authorities are now distributing circulars to the troops.

Every effort will be made so far as possible to give preferential passage to those soldiers eager to return at once.

Stettinius Tells of Unification Plans in Europe

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—Edward R. Stettinius, second assistant secretary of war an American member of the inter-allied munitions council formed for the purpose of unifying allied shipments of war supplies and artillery to save ship tonnage, returning today on steamship Cedric. Mr. Stettinius, who was formerly a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., has been abroad since July and will return to Europe about January 15 after making a report to the war department. He left for Washington soon after his arrival here.

The unification plan Mr. Stettinius said was very efficient and successful adding that it had been devised sooner much time and money would have been saved the allied governments. Much of the material he said was shipped knocked down to England and France and assembled when it arrived on the other side.

Mr. Stettinius praised the spirit of the American troops. He said it was wonderful that it could not be beaten, but that many of the boys want to get back home and they could not be blamed.

Absolute unity prevailed among Great Britain, France and Italy, he declared and all of those countries showed no lack of appreciation of the remarkable efforts of the United States.

Regarding reconstruction work in France he expressed the belief that the French would do a great deal more for themselves than most outsiders supposed possible. While the devastation has been terrible he said the French people already are showing a spirit of hopefulness and an energy that is amazing in a nation which has suffered four years of war. Belgium, he believed was in unusual sore straits and would need considerable American aid.

Thousands of More Troops Return Home

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—The United States Transport George Washington which took President Wilson to France and the steamship Cedric arrived here today, bringing 6,025 men from overseas in time to celebrate Christmas in the United States. The Cedric from Liverpool with 65 officers and 2,168 enlisted men, docked first and was accorded a rousing reception but the welcome to the George Washington which arrived an hour later from Brest was perhaps the most enthusiastic the city has given a returning transport.

The big liner had on board 331 officers and 3,461 men, more than half of them members of the Cyclone division, made up of Indiana, Kentucky and West Virginia National Guard troops. The George Washington's 689 sick and wounded contrary to custom were in possession of their honorable discharge papers when the transport landed. They received the best night with cigarettes and candy at a novel Christmas celebration arranged by Chaplain P. F. Bloomhardt of the George Washington.

As the men were dozing off for their last sleep aboard the transport the ship's quartette entered the sick bay and roused them by singing Christmas carols and "Home, Sweet Home."

The lights then were flashed on a member of the crew, attired as Santa Claus, distributed the discharges, which had been approved by General Pershing before the George Washington left Brest and by the war department by wireless.

According to Major W. H. Unversau, the Indiana men were "keenly disappointed" in not getting into the fighting.

RUSSIAN DELEGATES ARRIVE IN BERLIN

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 23.—The Berlin correspondent of the Social Democrat reports the arrival in Berlin of a delegation from the soviet government at Moscow, headed by M. Radek.

Berlin advices dated Dec. 11th, stated that the executive committee of the soldiers and workers' council had cancelled the invitation it had extended to Adolph Joffe, the Bolshevik ambassador to Germany and M. Radek a member of the Bolshevik embassy in Berlin, to come to Berlin for the congress of the councils. The cancellation was at the request of the Berlin cabinet.

RETURNS TO RUSSIA.

RESTRICTIONS ON GERMAN ENEMY ALIENS REMOVED

Action Will Affect 500,000 Germans in This Country

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—All restrictions on German enemy aliens except those applying to entry into and departure from the United States and those affecting the power of internment, were ordered removed today by Attorney General Gregory effective Christmas day.

This action was taken on cable instructions from President Wilson and will affect about 500,000 German men and women. It was explained that the department of justice will continue to exercise the power of internment of dangerous German enemy aliens and the order would not affect such aliens already mentioned.

This statement was issued at the department of justice: Gregory's Statement.

"On the recommendation of the attorney general the president has directed that on and after Christmas Day the attorney general discontinue enforcement of all regulations regarding the conduct of male and female German alien enemies, except those restrictions which apply to entry and departure from the country and those affecting the power of internment."

"This means that on Christmas Day the permit and pass systems effective against the aliens will be abolished all over the country and all prohibited areas and restricted zones will go out of existence. All registration regulations will likewise cease and it will no longer be necessary for German alien enemies to obtain permits for change of residence. In short they will be freed of all restrictions affecting places of residence and of employment."

"The attorney general will continue to exercise as heretofore the power to intern all dangerous German alien enemies. The action of the president does not affect in any way the status of men already interned or the restriction and obligations heretofore imposed on alien enemies now on parole. Any violation of parole will be punished as heretofore."

Austrians Never Restricted
John Lord O'Brien special assistant to the attorney general explaining why Austrians were not mentioned in the order, said the only regulations ever applied to them were those with reference to entry and departure and internment. The effect of today's action is to place Germans and Austrians on the same footing.

Approximately 250,000 Germans would be relieved from the necessity of carrying permits for entry into restricted areas, while the prohibited areas from which they were excluded absolutely, would again be open to them. These were the District of Columbia, the Panama Canal Zone and all water fronts.

Intention is continuing Mr. O'Brien said, to Germans having been interned on Saturday and six more today. It was learned unofficially that between four and five thousand Germans have been interned since the United States entered the war.

14,000,000 ENROLLED BY RED CROSS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Approximately 14,000,000 members had been enrolled by sixty per cent of the chapters of the United States Red Cross since the annual Christmas roll call ended today according to reports received at national headquarters here. If the same ratio should be maintained the total enrollment would exceed 20,000,000.

Bad weather and influenza have so handicapped the roll call in many sections of the country that some chapters have determined to carry the campaign thru Christmas Eve, although officially it ended tonight.

Returns from all divisions tonight were far from complete and officials said it probably would be another week before final reports on the enrollment would be in hand. The central division continued its lead with more than 4,000,000 members and the Atlantic division was second with more than 3,000,000.

650 OLAD OFF
Bridgeport, Conn., Dec. 23.—More than 650 men and women were laid off here today when no tickets were posted in the two plants of the Remington Arms Union Metallic Cartridge company announcing that practically all its ordnance department contracts had been cancelled. Less than 1,000 persons will remain at the Remington plant and about 2,000 at the Union Metallic Cartridge plant, it was announced tonight.

SENATE PASSES BIG WAR REVENUE BILL WITHOUT RECORD VOTE

Reduced To Raise Six Billions In 1019 And Four Billions In 1920.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—Without a record vote the senate late tonight passed the war revenue bill, reduced to raise about six billion dollars in 1919, and four billions in 1920, as compared with the levy of $8,200,000,000 for next year proposed in the bill passed by the house three months ago.

When the final vote was taken at 10:40 o'clock the senate had been in continuous session for nearly 13 hours. Immediately after the passage of the bill the senate began its holiday vacation, under the plan for three day recesses until January 2. Absence of a quorum in the house, however, had prevented that body from putting a single program into effect.

Amendments adopted included one by Senator Sheppard, of Texas, making the Reed law prohibiting shipment of intoxicating liquor into "dry" territory applicable to the District of Columbia, and another by Senator Trammell, of Florida, providing for a bonus of one month's pay to all officers and enlisted men honorably discharged from the nation's fighting forces after Nov. 11.

Disapprove House Bill.
The senate voted its first disapproval of the revision of the house bill by the finance committee when it reintroduced all of the taxes on so-called semi-luxuries except those on wearing apparel for men and women. Later it voted to reduce the rate on semi-luxuries from 20 to 10 per cent. Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, Republican, made a long address to the senate tonight in support of his substitute bill which would raise more than six billions of dollars, chiefly thru increased rates on war excess surtaxes. The Wisconsin senator said he would take "every dollar of war profit" and all incomes above to enable the owner of the income to support his family in comfort.

Senator LaFollette's substitute bill was rejected by a vote of 56 to 6, after the author had spoken for nearly three hours. Senators voting for its adoption were Borah, Grønna, Norris, Nugent, Vandaman and LaFollette.

27 INJURED IN WABASH WRECK
DANVILLE, Ill., Dec. 23.—Twenty-seven passengers were injured, two seriously when Wabash Local Train No. 53 due in Danville at 6:38 this evening was wrecked two miles east of Attica, Ind.

The two most seriously injured, Mrs. Charles Yarbrough, of West Lebanon, Ind., and William Baler of State Line, Ind., were brought to Danville hospital. Fireman Thomas Foley, slightly scalded, was also brought to the hospital. The other injured were able to proceed to their destination.

The exact cause of the wreck has not been ascertained. The engine left the rails dragging the entire train onto the ground, running about 500 feet along the grade and then plunging down a fifty foot embankment.

WOULDED YANKS HELP RED CROSS
Chicago, Dec. 23.—Wounded American soldiers hobbled thru the downtown streets today in behalf of the Red Cross Christmas drive for memberships.

The wounded men were brought here from the base hospital at Fort Sheridan, and were accompanied by a regiment of troops who led the parade.

The goal set for this city is 1,000,000 members before January 1 with 550,000 enrolled the first week of the drive.

WOULD MAKE RANKS PERMANENT
Washington, Dec. 23.—Bestowal of the permanent rank of general on John J. Pershing, commander of the American forces in France; Peyton C. March, chief of staff, and Tasker H. Bliss, military representative at the supreme war council, and a permanent rank of lieutenant general on Fort Sheridan, and were accompanied by a regiment of troops who led the parade.

LaFollette Attacks Bill.
Senator LaFollette's address which was prepared, attacked the senate bill principally because, he said, it would not raise enough revenue nor distribute taxes fairly.

"I would take every dollar of war profit," the Wisconsin senator said, "leaving business its enormous pre-war profits and its capital untouched."

"I would take all of the income over enough to enable the owner of the income to support his family in comfort."

Even under his bill Senator LaFollette said war profits earned by corporations in prosperous past four years would go untouched.

Regarding his plan to increase income taxes on the wealthy, Senator LaFollette said:

"Whatever may have been the forces which caused the present world war one result of it must be apparent to every man of intelligence and that is that plain citizen has come to realize his power as never before and consequently will assert his rights as never before. In order to raise the money to pay the expenses he has incurred and must reach out and put a heavy hand thru its power of taxation upon every citizen in the land and if it be presently discovered that the hand of the message to the people," so the story goes. Whether or not it is a different thing, "carrying the message" to the people of a dozen different nationalities overseas from that of talking directly to the people at home, remains to be seen.

There is a vast difference in the "hearing" qualification of people over there by contrast with those at home. And it remains to be seen, too, whether or not the president talks too much, for that is a possibility for both men in humble private life and those occupying public positions of the greatest responsibility.

UNPREPAREDNESS FOR BUSINESS

The hurried cancellation of American orders in Brazil to the extent of millions of dollars, the alarm felt by men in mercantile business because of difficulties attending both mail and freight transportation give some proof of America's unpreparedness for the after-the-war period.

There were warning notes sounded at Washington two or three years ago about the necessary preparation but little was done. Meanwhile England and other belligerents, while pressing the war, still made plans for the reconstruction period.

There possibly hasn't been as much publicity this year about Christmas giving as sometimes happens but there is every indication that no Jacksonville home will be cheerless this year.

FUNERALS

Nasby. Funeral services for Alvia L. Nasby were held at the residence, 502 South Fayette street at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon in charge of the Rev. J. H. Fisher, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. church.

Music was furnished by the choir of the church. Burial was in Jacksonville cemetery, the bearers being Henry Smith, William Smith, Eugene Hayden, Eugene Nasby and Robert Braun.

Haerle. Funeral services for Louis Haerle were conducted at Jacksonville cemetery at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in charge of Rev. G. T. Wetzel. The minister made reference to the long life of the deceased and paid tribute to his character.

Mr. Haerle was a man who had lived quietly but those who knew him will appreciate his spirit and character. The beautiful flowers sent by relatives were cared for by Miss Ella and Johnson. The bearers were: S. M. Carlson, Herman Johnson, Jacob Herberg, H. C. White, Lee Shaver and Arthur Long.

Eyre. The funeral services of Russell Eyre were held from the residence of his brother, A. R. Eyre, 1042 Grove street Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services were in charge of the Rev. L. R. Cronkite, pastor of Lynville Christian church of which Russell was a member.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Margaret Heaton, Mrs. L. R. Cronkite, C. L. Mathis and W. W. Gilliam. The bearers were discharged soldiers who have recently returned from various campaigns and were: Vol. Sevier, Virgil Edwards, Allen Jacobs, Myers Weber, John Vieira and Marion Self.

Military services at the grave were in charge of a firing squad from Company C Home Guards. The many beautiful floral pieces were in charge of the Misses Edna Johnson and Irene Simmons. Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Russell Eyre was the youngest son of Benjamin and the late Elizabeth Eyre who preceded him in death three years ago. He was born October 30, 1894. He spent his entire life on the farm until a year ago at which time he enlisted in the aviation corps. He spent his entire life on the farm until a year ago at which time he enlisted in the aviation corps.

He was stationed at Jefferson barracks for two months and for the past ten months has been at Kelly field No. 2, San Antonio, Texas.

Strube. Arthur Lewis Strube, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Strube, living near Merritt, passed away Friday noon as the result of influenza which developed into pneumonia.

The funeral services were held at the family home Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Rev. J. H. F. Steving officiating. The remains were taken to Arundel where further services were held by Rev. E. F. Tonn. Interment was in the Lutheran cemetery. The lad was born June 22, 1908, and in infancy thru baptism was received into the covenant of God. He was favored with his young friends and was a boy with many admirable traits. His untimely death has brought great sorrow to the family and friends.

Dr. King's New Discovery has a fifty year record behind it

It built its reputation on its production of positive results, on its sureness in relieving the throat irritation of colds, coughs, grippe and bronchial attacks.

Bowels Out of Kilter?

That's nature calling for relief. Assist her in her daily duties with Dr. King's New Life Pills. Not a purgative in the usual dose, but a mild, effective corrective, laxative that teaches the bowels into action. —25c.

BAKING

The Holiday Season is with us once more and there is much to be thankful for—much that we are most thankful for. One of the least, under the circumstances, is that we can have the use of white flour once more, yet everyone should be thankful for that as well.

During this season more baking than usual is done—bread, pie, cake, etc., and we do not believe you will find a better all-purpose flour than "CAINSON". Every sack guaranteed.

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop itching, eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

By clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

Colds and Rheumatism

If we lived the same in winter as in summer, drank as much water, ate as much fruit, took as much exercise and perspired as freely, we would have less colds, rheumatism, and, in fact, less sickness of any kind.

In winter the kidneys, lungs and skin pores have a greater burden thrown upon them and receive less aid from the bowels in disposing of the waste matter of the body. Clogged bowels is much more common—and this, medical authorities agree, is the cause of most sickness.

It is dangerous to neglect your bowels. Keep them free from food waste. That means health. It is easy to do. Your druggist has a new product called SALINOS which will completely empty the bowels, including the lower bowel, where most poisons are formed. It acts promptly and pleasantly with no distressing after-effects. It is pleasant to take, too.

Get a bottle for a Quarter (larger sizes Fifty cents and a Dollar). Be safe! Get SALINOS today. Take it tomorrow morning.

History of Thirty-third Company is traced by Sergt. Frank Merrill—Story Runs from Texas to France.

The interesting story of the movements of the Thirty-third military police Co. is told in a letter just received by Mr. and Mrs. James S. Merrill from their son, Sergt. Frank Merrill. This is the second installment of the letter:

While in Eu, which is a place almost as large as Jacksonville, we did M. P. duty much the same as in Logan. We could buy a very few things in the stores but we had everything that we needed. After the first night we pitched "pup" tents in an orchard and got along swell. Petty and I went over to La Treporte on the English channel and looked the place over. There is a big hospital for officers there and lots of them running around. It was while in these two places that we ran into French wine. The French people drink nothing else but wine but it is very weak stuff. It sure looks funny to see the kids with a glass of wine in one hand and a piece of bread in the other eating their dinner but that is what they have. The water around this place and everywhere that we have been in the English sector had been poisoned so we drank wine or coffee most of the time.

Nothing of interest happened in this place and we left in motor buses on the 21st and after traveling all day long we arrived at our Headquarters in the English sector at Mollens au Bois, and were billeted in barns. We were only 8 kilos from the lines at that time and from our camp we could see the flash of the guns. At 10:30 p. m. on the second night that we were there we were ordered out of the barns and had to pitch "Pup" tents. Before we could get them pitched we had to stop because of the noise that the fellows were making for we were in the yard of the house that the general was in. I put my shelter tent on the ground and rolled up in that and by blankets and went to sleep. At 12 M., it started to rain and by morning I was in about three inches of water but feeling fine. We then moved out into an orchard and dug in. By that I mean pitched our tents over holes about three feet deep. This served as a protection against bombing and "Jerry" came over every night but we soon got used to it. Our company sent details to the front and to control traffic and worked along with the British and Australian M. P.'s.

During our stay in this sector we acted as escort to General Rawlinson who was in command of the British Army to which our Division was attached. General Pershing, General Bliss and the King of England who decorated members of the 131st Infantry for bravery when they went over and started the drive that later ended in the end of the War. While here I saw and talked to Lieut. Dickson who had just returned from school near Paris. About a week we heard of his death and believe me all wished that we could go over and get a little revenge.

The division was recommended for honor for their work in this sector. While standing in the yard near my tent one night I heard what seemed to be shell and something went by my head and hit into the ground. It was the nose cap from an anti-aircraft shell and it only missed me by 6 inches but a miss is as good as a mile. We heard an air fight over road one night and saw a plane brought down in flame and it was the largest plane ever brought down. There were 7 Germans in it and it had 5 engines in it. I guess that you read about it in the papers. We left Mollens about 6:00 p. m. on Aug. 24th and hiked to Vignacourt a distance of about 11 kilos. While in Vignacourt waiting to entrain the plane was bombed but no damage done. We left there about 2 a. m. the next morning and rode for 2 days. We went thru the outskirts of Paris and could see the buildings and the Eiffel Tower. Don't know how to spell it. We also went thru the site of the Chateau, Thierry Drive and the place was sure shot up. Towns with not a building standing, captured guns and ammunition all kinds of graves marked with the soldiers' helmets. It is impossible to describe the scene.

We arrived at Ligny on the morning of the 26th at 3 a. m., and detoured and hiked to Tronville where we pitched "Pup" tents and did M. P. duty in towns occupied by the Division. Nothing of interest happened in this place.

Left there on Sept. 17th at 7 p. m. by motor bus, without lights for no lights can be used close to the front, and after riding all night landed at Blercourt. Stayed there two days and hiked to Frommerville. Here we were within observation of the German lines. We controlled traffic at this place and on all the roads up to the front. Thousands of guns and troops were sent up to the front every night. All movements were made under cover of night in order to make a surprise attack. We were not even allowed to walk around in the day time unless on business. While at this place we were shell every once in a while but no damage to our company.

We next moved closer to the line, to a dug out at Longbat. The Dug Out was 60 feet under the ground and large enough to hold 800 men. Lighted with electric lights from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. One night all the guns turned loose and it sounded like all Hell had been turned loose and I guess that the Germans thought that it had. This was the greatest Barrage of the War. It sure was some sight to see the flash of the guns, and the noise sounding like one long peel of thunder. In the morning the Infantry went over the top and the drive was on. Our division was given the "pivot" of the drive and were the first to make their objective and had to fight flanks movements for about three days in order to hold the place while the other divisions made their objective. They took Dead Man's Hill in 45 minutes a place that the French had been trying to take for 4 years. In order to this they waded thru swamps waist deep. They had to cross the Meuse River under fire but they never failed in any attempt. All of this time our men were right at the front directing traffic under shell fire, collecting prisoners of war and making them carry wounded Americans, directing messengers to different points and even captured prisoners. We were credited with 79 prisoners of war. You should see the orders and directions that the men had to know. It is no job for a man who gets a little excited for lots depends on the man's judgment. (A M. P. controls the road that he is on and gives orders to Generals and every one else in place of taking orders from them. One of our privates moved a whole division off of the road when at first the general would not take orders from him.) In cases of roads blocked it is the same job. These roads are shelled every day and have holes in them 20 feet deep. Traffic goes both ways and when a big gun gets to the men and guns and let the ambulances get back with wounded severe measures must be taken. The gun commander very likely tells you to go to it—uncouple a string of horses and dump the gun or what ever it is into the ditch and walk away. That is our orders. (We handled several thousand prisoners. Put them in a wire cage, fed them, searched them and took them back to the Corps cage.) I could tell many interesting stories about these prisoners but they can last. I made several trips over a road over a hill that could be seen by Jerry all the time.

(The Infantry was in the front line for over 50 days and one Brigade was sent to relieve a whole draft Division that could not make their objective and took the place in their first try. From then on they held two Divisional Sectors.)

After the division was relieved we hiked to Ancomont about 20 kilos and after a three day rest part of the Infantry went back in the line. We were still on the front and doing the same kind of work, only in another section. We were at Ancomont three days and then moved to another town not far away named Troyon and are still there.

We are at present in small sheds on a hill at the edge of the town. Clean place but cold and the weather is getting colder every day but I think that we will make another move soon. (The Division kept right on going until Nov. 11 at 1 a. m. and a week over the top that morning and had quite a number of casualties.)

After the fighting stopped the Allied P. of W. were released and we have been collecting them by the hundreds and taking them to 2nd Army headquarters. Well folks this is now the 23rd of Nov. so I guess that I had better stop and send this. I have not told you half of the events but it is too much to do to try and tell every thing. In a few pages of writing so the rest will keep until the homecoming which I think will be before very many more months.

We thought at first that we would be sent into Germany but I guess that you have seen what troops are going on. It may be that we will be in the states before January 1st, 1919 and let us hope so.

All of the fellows are fine and dandy and so am I and I sure hope that every one at home is feeling like we are. I don't need a thing including money so don't worry about yours truly.

I guess that this will reach you about Christmas so I am wishing the whole family "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Lots of love,
"BROWNIE."

The Armistice has been signed and hostilities have ceased, at least for the present. The Division Commander takes this opportunity of expressing his appreciation and pride to all ranks for the efficient and effective work.

Shortly after leaving New York in May, 1918, the Division took station with the British in the defense of Amiens. On the morning of July 4th, 1918, part of it attacked, and the Americans for the first time in history were associated on the battlefield with Australians, winning the victory of Hamel, described by the Commanding General of the Australian Corps as "an historic event of such significance that it will live forever in the annals of our respective nations." The deed and gallantry displayed on this occasion was recognized by the British Commander-in-Chief and rewarded by the King. The engagement had far reaching results. On the 9th of August at Grossartre Wood and Chilly the Division materially assisted the beginning of what developed into the final British advance and were again honored by the British nation. On September 26th and October 9th, as part of the First American Army, it carried all its objectives in the Verdun sector and held the territory won on both sides of the Meuse. It has been awarded decorations by our Government and our former French Corps Commander has asked that recommendations be submitted for the Croix de Guerre. Such is the record of this Division.

The Commanding General congratulates officers and men, soldiers of the Great War, on these things done by them in the services of their country.

WEDDING CEREMONY AT CARROLLTON

Miss Ione Linder is Bride of Mr. Ellsworth Black—Limited Company at Service.

The marriage of Mr. Ellsworth Black of this city and Miss Ione Linder of Carrollton was solemnized in Carrollton Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Linder home, with only relatives and a very few intimate friends present. The service was said by Rev. Guy Smock, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the company and later Mr. and Mrs. Black left for a brief honeymoon journey. It was during their student days at Illinois college that the friendship of these young people began. They were graduates in the same class and the college attachment led to this happy marriage ceremony.

Mrs. Black who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finley Linder, has been instructor in mathematics at the Carrollton high school during the past term and will continue her work there for the remainder of the school year.

Mr. Black is a student at Washington university in St. Louis and a member of the Medical Reserve corps. He has another year at the university and will continue his studies. In their college work both Mr. and Mrs. Black had unusual records in scholarship and it was a mutual interest in scientific study that led to their friendship. Mr. Black is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Black, and after finishing his medical education, will probably be associated in practice with his father here in Jacksonville.

The company yesterday included beside the parents and grandfather of the bride, an intimate friend, Mrs. Leo Smith of Carrollton; a brother, Isham Linder, recently returned from service in France; Mrs. Carl E. Black, Misses Dorothy, Marjorie and Betty Black and Wallace Hembrough of this city. Both Mr. and Mrs. Black especially appreciated the presence of Isham Linder as he has been in a French hospital as the result of a gas attack and his home coming to this country was just in time to make it possible for him to attend the wedding.

THE MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

The Morgan County Monument Association held a special meeting yesterday pursuant to the call of the president, Major McEagall, who stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of hearing a partial report from the contractors. The contract specified that photographs of the various figures should be submitted to the association and by them to the county board and to a person or persons who are especially qualified from education and experience and if all were satisfied then the figure should be completed and again, when done in clay should be submitted before being cast in bronze.

Two photographs were submitted both to the monument association and to the county board and the work was fine. There are to be four minor groups at each of the four corners of the monument and pictures of two of them were shown and were very fine. One represented "Patriotism" and the other "Sacrifice". The first showed a powerful man in a striking position in the act of drawing a sword and the other a mother with her young son whom she was ready to give to the service of his country. Both show excellent skill and taste and a fine conception of the idea intended to be conveyed. The members of the association are much pleased and so was the county board.

It was decided to submit the work to the eminent Lorado Taft and two other prominent artists and if accepted by them the figures will then be completed in the size intended and again submitted.

HARRY SIFF WRITES MRS. HERMAN

Mrs. J. Herman has received a letter from her nephew, Harry Siff, who is with his command in Luxembourg. He is with the statistical department and his fine abilities as accountant and correspondent are used to good advantage. He says the place is very beautiful, fine houses, ornamental grounds and much to delight the eye.

The people were so glad to see the American soldiers that they actually kissed them. Mr. Siff said he was quartered in a fine dwelling with feather bed and lots of the comforts of life but had no idea how long they would remain. He sent some beautiful cards illustrating the place and remarked that the Germans had cruelly stripped it of all they could carry away.

HERE FROM NEWPORT

Mr. and Mrs. Marcy Osborne have arrived from Newport, R. I. for a holiday visit and are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown. Mr. Osborne is a yeoman in the navy service and is here on "liberty" as he must return to the east Friday.

Practically all the time since entering the services Mr. Osborne has been at Newport, where one of the navy divisions is located. Twenty thousand or more men are there in the service and Mr. Osborne is in the pay master's division. The department has charge of all the banking accounts of the men, so that Mr. Osborne is in work in which he has had years of experience.

During recent months he has had charge of the affairs of men from Brown university, numbering about 250. Men have been coming daily during the past months and others have been sent overseas or transferred to other naval divisions, so the work is constantly changing and has new interest from day to day.

Tape Bluing

Marks the End of Bluing Troubles On Washday

A STRIP of blued paper tape wound around a pasteboard spool and enclosed in a pasteboard box. The paper is marked off in coupons. One end of it issues from a slit in the side of the box. Tear off one coupon for each gallon of water, drop it in the tub and your work is done.

THE color on the paper instantly dissolves and the water is ready for the clothes. There will not be too much or too little color. That's out of the question. Guess-work is wholly eliminated because the quantity of blue is scientifically measured by the coupon. It is far more accurate than you can possibly be. The result will please you beyond measure. It will reveal the difference between guesswork and science.

THE tape does away with the ancient bottle of blue, the rags in tubes and balls of blue which become lost in the recesses of the pantry—the powders which form in aggravating lumps and streak the water and streak the clothes. It does your work for you better than you can do it. It simplifies everything. It protects you from the annoyance of too much blue or too little blue. It is scientifically accurate and can't fail. It is the blue without a drawback.

YOU can't possibly stain anything with this form of bluing. It can't become bluing until the tape enters the water. The tape itself won't stain your hands or anything else it happens to touch. But the instant it strikes the water it becomes the softest, cleanest, clearest blue you ever saw in your life. And it is going to make everyone say "Why didn't somebody think of this before." Tape Bluing will revolutionize wash-day.

Ask Your Grocer for It

One coupon for each gallon of water. Continuous tape of 55 coupons in each box. PRICE 10c

HARD ROAD PLANS DISCUSSED IN DETAIL

State Department Explains What It Is Hoped To Accomplish in Coming Months — Engineers Now Studying Routes.

As has been frequently stated it is the intention of the state to proceed as rapidly as possible in carrying out the provisions of the hard roads legislation authorized by vote of the people at the recent election. There are frequent questions from the public with reference to the plan of activity to answer such questions the following statement has been prepared by the division of highways:

The Department of Public Works and Buildings and the Division of Highways realize that the people of the state after such a decided expression in favor of improved roads as was given at the November election, are anxious to know what steps we propose to take in carrying out the provision of the road bond issue law.

Looking Over Routes.

This law names the cities which are to be given a reasonable connection in the improvement of this system of roads, leaving the exact location of the roads between the points named in the law to the determination of this department. To locate this system must of necessity consume considerable time. We already have in the field several parties of reconnaissance engineers who will go over every available route connecting the cities named in the law and report to us the topography of each route, the comparative cost of improving these various routes, the service rendered by each route, as well as matters of public safety such as grade crossings, bad turns, etc.

Upon the completion of these reports, it will be the duty of this department to make a final decision as to the definite routes to be improved with this fund. This will not be done, however, until the people who desire to be heard in regard to the definite location of routes, have been given an opportunity to appear before us and make such suggestions as they think proper. We would therefore say that those who desire a conference with the department in regard to the location of any bond issue route, should advise us in writing describing in detail the route concerning which a hearing is desired. A record of the same will be made and before final decision is reached, the interested parties will be advised as to the time and place the hearing will be held. This request should be addressed to S. E. Bradt, superintendent of highway, state house, Springfield.

These hearings will not be taken up until the reconnaissance reports of our engineers are before us. We appreciate that these reconnaissance reports may not be received for some weeks and therefore the hearing on the location of the road in your vicinity may not be called for some weeks.

Federal Appropriation.

It is a matter of general information that the federal government in 1918 made an appropriation of $75,000,000 for the improvement of federal aid roads throughout the United States. The allotment of Illinois from this fund amounted to $3,300,000 and the state of Illinois pledged itself to provide an equal amount in accordance with the law. Upon the request of the Federal Department of Agriculture, the Division of Highways selected five routes to be improved with this fund, namely:

The National Old Trails road.
The Lincoln highway.
The Chicago-St. Louis road (by way of Joliet, LaSalle, Peoria and Springfield).
The Dixie Highway.
The Chicago-Waukegan road, (running from Chicago to the Wisconsin state line.)

These roads were approved by the department of agriculture and it was expected that a reasonable part of the system would be completed in 1918. In order to bring this about, all the counties along the line of these routes, either thru a tax levy or a county bond issue, provided a fund equal to the state's appropriation, or approximately one-third of the entire sum, to assist in the improvement of the roads thru their respective counties. Surveys were made and we were prepared to carry on a considerable portion of this improvement in 1918 but were prevented from doing so by reason of the embargo upon all highway construction due to war conditions.

The federal government is now insisting upon this work being resumed as speedily as possible. This fact will not interfere with our beginning work upon the balance of the bond issue system as soon as cost of construction is reasonable and definite locations can be made together with other necessary engineering work.

Some Possible Delays.

The people of the state realize that we cannot improve all of these roads the first year. Just how rapidly we can carry on this work will depend largely upon the supply of labor and materials and the number of contractors who efficiently organized forces. It should be realized that as road work has been practically at a standstill for several years, the organizations of road contractors have been depleted to such an extent that it will take considerable time for them to reorganize sufficiently to undertake work on a large scale.

We desire to get this work under way as rapidly as possible consistent with good business management and ask your continued co-operation.

Frank I. Bennett, Director.

M. W. A. NOTICE
Members of Camp 912, M. W. A., are requested to meet at W. W. Gillham's undertaking rooms at 1:15 o'clock p. m. today to attend the funeral of Dewey S. Waterfield.

J. Earl Vasconcellos, Clerk.

SUNDAY SERVICES
The Sunday services at the Congregational church were enjoyed by a goodly number who were well repaid for attending. The music by a chorus choir with solos and quartets was especially fine. The Pastor, Rev. W. E. Collins, took for his text, Isaiah 53 and 7, "For unto us a Child is borne," etc. He described in beautiful language the scene in Bethlehem on that eventful night when the angelic host appeared to the shepherds with the glorious message. He showed what it had meant to the earth all the intervening years and how men more and more were coming to know and realize the value of the blessed truth of the message of peace and good will to men.

GOOD TRADE YESTERDAY.

As a very general rule trade was excellent yesterday especially in clothing and shoe stores and any place that had anything in the way of holiday goods. Dry goods stores seemed to be very busy and several times the question was asked, "what would you have done had the roads and weather been good?"

LIEUT. SIEFKIN IS OUT OF SERVICE.

Lieut. Forrest Siefkin is in the city to spend the holidays with Mrs. Siefkin and family of A. T. Capps. He has been in the ordnance department of the army and was recently given an honorable discharge from Camp Hancock.

See the array of holiday goods at Knoles.

HEALTH CONDITIONS GOOD, REPORT SHOWS

Commissioner Martin Says Very Few Cases of Influenza Have Been Reported in Recent Days — Water Supply is Ample.

At the council session Monday morning, Commissioner Martin gave the cheerful report that the influenza situation is at present very satisfactory as recent days have shown but few new cases. In fact, no cases were reported Sunday, only one Saturday, three Friday and two Thursday. Unless something happens to change the situation there is every reason for satisfaction over local health conditions. Mr. Martin has been ill himself with the influenza and attended the council meeting for the first time in three weeks. Mr. Martin attributed the better condition largely to the activities of the special health officer who has made it his business to go from house to house and see that the quarantine rules are observed.

Mr. Vasconcellos was able to report No. 1 well at the north side station now in operation and the trouble with the Russell engine at the light plant repaired. The commissioner said the best news he had to give was the supply of water at Morgan lake is within 8 inches of the top of the overflow. This means a great deal to Jacksonville, when it is remembered that there have been seven droughts during winter months the past two years when it has been necessary to seriously curtail the consumption of water. Now there is a supply in the creek, some water is being taken from the north side station and the reserve supply at Morgan lake is abundant. This means that there will be no water shortage in Jacksonville for at least a number of months to come.

Mr. Widmayer had nothing to report from the finance department, as there is no change in the situation there. Mayor Rodgers made reference to the meeting of the Municipal League in Chicago Friday and Saturday. He said that there was a good attendance and the interest was greater than ever before because of the many problems in community welfare now pressing on cities for solution.

One of the ideas advanced was that it would be preferable for the constitution to indicate those things that a city cannot do. Certain students of public affairs believe that these provisions would save cities from a great deal of trouble and confusion, so far as legal affairs are concerned. There was some general discussion and the council then adjourned.

LIEUT. KEATING'S VISIT CUT SHORT.

Lieut. Emmett Keating of the T. S. N., expected to spend the Christmas vacation with his wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Keating here, but received message a few hours after his arrival here Sunday, ordering him to report at Hoboken, N. J., soon. The lieutenant, who has been in the navy for several years, has just returned from a trip to France and is now to go overseas again almost immediately. A large number of soldiers, with some wounded men, were brought home on the last voyage.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To my old friends and customers, that after several years in the real estate business in Texas, I am back in that business here, and respectfully solicit your patronage.

SOLDIERS AND SAILORS TO BE SHOWN HONOR

Home Coming Planned for Morgan County Men Will Meet Red Cross Suggestion—Main Event Scheduled for Later Month.

It has been the suggestion of the Red Cross organization that in each community an appropriate home coming be arranged for sailors and soldiers as they return. The definite procedure in selecting a chairman of homecoming committee was outlined in the instructions, providing that the county chairman and the chairmen of canteen, relief and publicity departments should make the selection. Accordingly at a recent date M. F. Dunlap, county chairman, Mrs. R. C. Singley, canteen chairman, Rev. W. E. Collins, relief chairman and W. L. Fay, publicity chairman, selected Miller Weir for this chairmanship.

Altho Mr. Weir has taken up his duties in the auditor's office in Springfield in an active way, he consented to accept this chairmanship and in the course of time will make known the various committees to serve. Since the soldiers and sailors are not returning in large numbers at any one time it will probably be the plan to have a general homecoming celebration on a date next spring or in the early summer. For the present, however, Mr. Weir has in mind several plans to impress the returning men as they come singly or in groups that proud welcome awaits them. One of the things he suggests is the building of canteen booths or arches at the various depots where in a conspicuous way words of welcome will greet the men as they arrive on trains. If at any time it is known that a group of soldiers is returning, then a special committee will meet them at the train and possibly other honors will be accorded them.

May Use Park.

For the general celebration a few months later the plans are entirely in an embryonic state. It is possible that such an event may be arranged for Nichols park when every man in the county who has been in the service will be expected to attend in uniform. On such a day there would be a grand parade with an appropriate general program, together with the serving of refreshments. In some cities homecomings are being arranged for the business district, in others at some park and still others plan to use armories or coliseums. But whatever the plan adopted here, full emphasis will be laid on the fact that the people of Morgan county are glad indeed that their soldiers and sailors are at home again, and further that they are proud of the spirit and prowess that these men have shown, the eagerness they have displayed in their desire to be of early service in the good cause.

Before any general celebration is held Mr. Weir hopes to have a register prepared which will give the name of every man who has been in the service, his present address and possibly indicate one or two of the points about his service. At any rate, it is quite sure that the home coming plans in this county will be worked out in a generous and patriotic way.

MALLEN & SON.

ENJOY VISIT AT HOME

Horace and Harold Swain have arrived home for a holiday visit from the naval training station at Cleveland, O. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Swain of Sinclair and their unexpected coming means a great deal of Christmas cheer at the Swain home. The young men during their training have made two trips from Buffalo to Duluth and returned on board a freighter. Lieut. John Swain who has been an instructor in aviation at a California field is expected home soon.
